

CSU's Aids Awareness Week presents

Paul Amegashie

Wednesday, November 29th at 6pm
A free lecture at The Hive
(Loyola SC Bldg)

Paul Amegashie is a Chaplain at Concordia University's Multi-Faith Chaplaincy. Born in the Congo and raised in Togo he has had first hand experience as a Chaplain with the African AIDS epidemic. He will discuss his own involvement with those afflicted with AIDS and also the many policies and programs that the governments and the Catholic church in Africa are trying to implement to curb this epidemic. This talk will be supplemented with a slide show and followed by a question period.
